

These are 8 similar questions from 5 Member of European Parliament. They had answered our question.

What is your assessment of recent Geneva agreement between Iran and 6 great powers and how do you see the future of bilateral relations between Iran and European countries?

How much readiness and seriousness do you see in European countries to take practical steps toward Iran?

It seems that United States is so concerned about economic and diplomatic traffic in Tehran. Does US and EU follow a unified strategy toward Iran or there is division between these two?

How independent is European foreign policies from US demands?

To be clearer what is the role and weight of US in EU foreign policy?

How EU's foreign policy toward Iran been able to satisfy member states economic interests?

Don't you think EU is losing too much by following the US policies toward Iran, while Iran has announced its readiness to build trust with international community over its peaceful nuclear program?

How do you see the impact of parliamentary election in May 2014 on decision-making process in EU toward Iran?

With the European Parliamentary elections, the shadow of euroscepticism grows stronger within the European Union. What are its origins and crucially what does it mean for Europe's future? Will EU remains a unified body or we are facing a multi pillar which has its own power struggles?

Different ways of answering shows different controversial views about Iran in Europe. While the common points between them is also interesting. Diplomatic Khorasan Respectfully Thanks them for their assistance.

IRANIAN QUESTION

Tarja Cronberg, Finland

Chair of the European parliament Iran delegation

Bogusław SONIK, Poland

Member of Delegation for relations with Iran